We regret reference allegation in U.S. News and World Report but so far there has been very little of this type of exposure of the FJJOYANCE parent project. A widely published syndicated column and an article in a toade magazine, both concerning another large project, made passing reference to the FJJOYANCE parent project, but there has been no replay or pick up of the stories, 2. As you realize there are various solutions under consideration for future support of different projects and approvals are being sought for future courses of action. In this particular case, no request has yet been presented to LNLOFT but the papers are being drawn up.
